MOST RIGID INVESTIGATION IS PLANNED BY THE SENATE.

EACH SENATOR GOING ON OATH

50 Yet 10 They Are Financially Interested in Tariff or Other Bills.

Washington, May 31.—The most searching investigation ever undertaken into the private affairs and business connections of members of the United States senate will be the opportunity of the "lobby investigation," which is to open Monday morning before a sub-committee of the judiciary committee.

While President Wilson's recent declaration that a powerful lobby is at work to influence action on the tariff bill seems the basis for the investigation, the committee is expected to be asked to consider the question of the financial interest of senators in tariff or other bills.

Each senator will be required to tell under oath whether he has any interest in any matter affected by any bill now before congress, or that has been before congress during his term, and whether or not he has ever tried to influence any other senator to vote for or against a bill in which he has an interest.

It is understood that the committee will also inquire into the financial interest of senators in tariff or other bills, and whether or not they have ever tried to influence any other senator to vote for or against a bill in which they have an interest.

KILL 28 REBELS IN MEXICO FIGHT

FEDERALS PUT THE CARRAN-
ZISTAS TO ROUTE IN BATTLE AT COLUMBIA.

30 WOUNDED; 106 PRISONERS

Two Federal Officers Are Shot—Rebels
Reach American Side and Are Sent Back.

Laredo, May 31.—In a battle early today between federals and Carranzistas, at Columbia, resulting in twenty-eight dead, thirty wounded and many prisoners, the federal forces along the frontier have for the first time in months assumed the offensive, with results favorable to the constituted government.

Late last night three different columns of federals left Nuevo Laredo for Columbia, twenty-five miles up the Rio Grande.

Upon arrival, a detour was made by the federals, one column flanking the rebels on the south and west, cutting off practically all retreat except across the Rio Grande.

When the federals had obtained covered positions, a deadly fire was poured into the rebel ranks from two machine guns, completely routing the enemy and causing them to beat a precipitous retreat.

Thirty 100 Prisoners.
Following up their victory, the federals took 106 prisoners and pursued the routed Carranzistas.

Later in the day reinforcements were obtained by the rebels, 200 men coming from Hidalgo, twenty miles beyond Columbia.

With the arrival of fresh rebel forces the federals are reported to have abandoned their prisoners and returned to Nuevo Laredo, Mexico, leaving Columbia in the hands of the enemy.

During the battle twenty Carranzistas were killed, and the rebels, together with their horses, and succeeded in landing upon the American side.

They were captured by Sheriff Amador Sanchez of this Webb county, who endeavored to obtain military authority to detain them. The men later were turned over for the purpose of sending them back to their own homes.

Instead of crossing directly in front of Columbia, where the battle took place, the men made a detour and proceeded up the Rio Grande with the intention of crossing at some point where danger of capture by the federal forces was less imminent.

Officers Are Killed.
According to Carranzista reports, Captain Longoria, together with a force of sixteen men, were the center of the fire when the battle opened, and Longoria, together with his sixteen men, was killed.

The captain succeeded in drawing the federal forces out to a more advantageous point where both forces had an even chance.

Captain Santos who has been acting as secretary to Major Rafael Marquez, also was killed in the fight.

Among the federal wounded are Captain Gonzalez and Lieutenant Torres.

The federals succeeded in capturing a considerable amount of arms, ammunition and foodstuffs from the Carranzista forces.

COLONEL GETS 6 CENTS DAMAGES AFTER HIS ACCUSER RETRACTS

Man Who Backed Down
In Calling T. R. Booser

Marquette, Mich., May 31.—Theodore Roosevelt today won his libel suit against George Newett, who charged the colonel with drunkenness, and, having waived damages after the defendant had uttered a retraction, the jury awarded the nominal damages of six cents, provided in such cases by the laws of Michigan.

Each party to the suit will have to pay his own expenses.

Judge Flannigan instructed the jury to bring in a verdict for the plaintiff, which they did without leaving their seats.

The colonel left for Chicago and the suit at 5:30 o'clock this evening, less than two hours after the conclusion of the case.

When the afternoon session began the air was electrical with expectancy. Rumors were flying that the suit would be terminated. Attorney Van Benschoten, for the plaintiff, however, resumed the reading of depositions. It was noted, however, that he ignored the testimony of some witnesses. The next move was sudden.

The Plaintiff Retractions.
"The plaintiff retracts," remarked the attorney, James H. Pound, in a matter-of-fact manner.

Wm. F. Holden of Ishpeming, who, with Horace Andrews of Cleveland, was Mr. Newett's attorney, said: "The defense will call Mr. Newett."

A ruddy-checked man, whose color did not disguise the fact that he is suffering from a serious illness, took the chair. In his hand he carried a manuscript.

When the defendant began reading, Colonel Roosevelt's attorney, who was Mr. Newett's attorney, said: "The defense will call Mr. Newett."

Landmark of Waco Burns; Cotton Mill Had a History

Was Built During the Civil War by J. B. Earle to Make Clothing for Southern Soldiers—Machinery Came from Liverpool in Contraband of War

Waco, June 1.—The cotton mill which has been built by the late J. B. Earle, and which is now being operated by the Waco Cotton Mill Co., has a history which is as interesting as it is unique. The mill was built during the Civil War, and its machinery was brought to Waco in contraband of war.

The mill was built by J. B. Earle, a prominent citizen of Waco, who was a member of the Confederate army. He was a member of the 1st Texas Cavalry, and he was captured by the Union forces in 1862. He was then taken to a prison in England, and he remained there for several years.

During his captivity, Earle learned the art of weaving, and he became a skilled weaver. He was released from prison in 1864, and he returned to Waco. He then began to plan the construction of a cotton mill, and he secured the necessary machinery from Liverpool.

The machinery was brought to Waco in contraband of war, and it was used to produce clothing for the Confederate soldiers. The mill was completed in 1864, and it began to operate in 1865.

The mill was a landmark of Waco, and it played a significant role in the city's history. It was the first cotton mill in Waco, and it was the only one of its kind in the South at that time.

tempt had been made to manufacture thread at a little factory on the west side of the river and the boiler had been purchased by Earle from them.

Yellow fever was raging at Galveston and Houston at the time, and the owners of the mill could not get to Washington to take the matter up with the government. While the mill was being held by the northern soldiers, who picked it up, Mrs. Earle was living in her home across the street from the mill.

The men made themselves obnoxious on many occasions, coming into the Earle home. However, after strict orders from Mr. Earle they were soon made to stay on their own side of the road.

Funny incidents. Many funny incidents happened while the soldiers had control of the property. Mrs. Earle looked out one day and saw them drinking with some of her negroes. She went over across the river to the captain in charge of the Waco bureau to come and take his drunken men off her place. The officers came and the soldiers were considerably manhandled and taken from the scene of their debauchery.

The negroes in the meantime were dead drunk and Mrs. Earle needed them to go for grain, some miles away. Believing they would sneak out the measures and go while intoxicated, she looked the things up. The next morning they came to the "big house." When asked why they had gotten drunk with the soldiers, they told her they had not drunk with the "poor white trash" and that they had not been intoxicated. One of them informed her that his "legs" got tangled up somehow. Mr. Earle had started to Washington while these happenings were taking place.

Upon Mr. Earle's arrival in Washington he was informed that they had never heard of the mill and the Waco authorities had no right to take possession. Upon the payment of $3000 it was released. Dugley had been carrying for the expensive machinery all the time the government had the mill in charge.

The property changed hands several times in rapid succession. Many attempts were made to run it, but all trials resulted in failure. Colonel Taylor and C. M. Foley had several different superintendents, but after trying to turn it into a rope factory it was finally given up. The woolen mill was a separate building from the cotton mill and it burned soon after the war.

The property is beautifully situated and there has been talk of making an attempt to buy it for a park, but it is understood the owners are holding it for a factory site.

Is Shot by Cow Owner. Carthage, Tex., May 31.—Bill Holliday, a laborer employed at Smith's Mill, six miles from this place, was shot and killed there last night by Cary Pitts, a farmer, according to a telephone message received here. The trouble is said to have originated over Holliday's milking Pitts' cows at night. Pitts watched his cow yards and fired when the alleged intruder appeared. Pitts surrendered to the county authorities and was released on bond. Holliday's body was shipped to his former home at Timpan.

NOBODY CAN TELL IF YOU DARKEN GRAY, FADED HAIR WITH SAGE TEA

Druggist Says When Mixed With Sulphur Prevents Dandruff and Falling Hair.

Common garden sage brewed into a heavy tea with sulphur and alcohol added, then left to age and carefully filtered with turpentine, sweetened and bottled, makes a hair dressing that removes every bit of dandruff, stops hair falling and keeps hair.

Just a few applications will prove a revelation if your hair is falling gray or dry, scraggly and thin. Mixing the sage tea with turpentine makes it keep, and it is ready to use at once. Cost, 25 cents a large bottle, at drug stores, known as "Wyneth's Sage and Sulphur Hair Remedy," thus avoiding a lot of money. Some druggists make their own, but it isn't nearly so nice as "Wyneth's." While wispy, gray, faded hair is not what we all desire to retain our youthful appearance and attractiveness, by darkening your hair with Wyneth's Sage and Sulphur you can tell, because it does it so naturally, so evenly. You just dampen a sponge or soft brush and draw it through your hair, taking one small strand at a time. Do this tonight and by morning all gray hairs have disappeared. After another application or two it will be restored to its natural color and be even more glossy, soft and luxuriant than ever.

Local druggists say they are getting lots of "Wyneth's Sage and Sulphur," it surely helps folks appear years younger.

Our Soda Fountain

We have opened our Fountain, the most up-to-date and sanitary Soda Fountain that can be made or money can buy. We will use only the best quality of materials, regardless of cost. This will be a Fountain with a "conscience," and any mother may send her child here, feeling sure that at The G.M. Co. Fountain pure, healthful and delicious food and drinks are supplied.

Notwithstanding the superior quality and higher cost of materials, there will be no advance in price over other high class fountains in the city. We ask special attention to the purity and wholesomeness of our Buttermilk, Cream and Sweet Milk. They are special quality, prepared under absolutely sanitary conditions, and sent to you more than others to be had.

BAD WATER CAUSES PELLAGRA

Medical Profession in Rome Declares They Know Cause of the Skin Disease.

Rome, May 31.—Pellagra, the mysterious skin disease, prevalent in semi-tropical climates, which has baffled medical authorities for nearly 200 years, is caused by infected water, according to Professors Scala and Alessandri of the Institute of Hygiene in Rome.

The scourge has long been attributed to the consumption of bad corn, but these professors have found that in the districts of Italy where the disease is most prevalent, the water is infected with flint stone in colloidal solution.

The professors declare that the theory of maize-ptomaine is altogether groundless. They are endeavoring to induce the authorities to proceed with a thorough examination of all the waters of the infected districts and to get rid of the pellagra, which claims 50,000 cases annually.

The professors have found that the infected water may be easily made safe for drinking purposes by putting into it a quantity of carbonated chalk.

In the United States, a commission whose work has been made possible by a gift of $100,000 from Colonel Robert M. Thompson of New York and John H. McPadden of Philadelphia, has been at work for more than a year in a study of the cases of pellagra in the southern states.

The commission's final report yet is to be issued.

BRYAN HAS PRIVATE SEAL

Secretary Uses Design in Vase in Time of Alexander the Great.

Washington, May 31.—Secretary Bryan has just made for himself a private seal, of which he is especially proud. It is a reproduction of the design on a coin that was circulated in the time of Alexander the Great, which Colonel Bryan obtained on his tour around the world. The design disclosed a man holding a bird aloft. The bird is said to resemble a falcon, but Secretary Bryan, whose peace propensities are well known, insists it is a "dove of peace."

Mr. Bryan had not become the head of the state department long before he realized the onerous task of affixing his own signature to an enormous mass of correspondence, so he hit upon the scheme of a private seal and stamp, bearing the words, "William J. Bryan."

The Women of Texas

What They Are Doing in Various Phases of Their Work

Reported Weekly in The Waco Morning News by Miss Kate Friend, Editor, 525 Terrace Row, Waco, Texas.

CALIFORNIA SHAKSPEARE CLUB HAS PROGRAM

We were much surprised upon picking up a program from the Shakespeare club of Pasadena, Cal., to find the program of song altogether without Shakespeare music. California clubs have an up-to-date music which makes the absence of Shakespeare music all the more remarkable. This club has its headquarters in a typical Tudor style, commodious and quiet in harmony with the Shakespeare style of architecture. For the closing the club gave a musicale where professional artists were presented. The numbers were from standard masters and they were appropriate to the season. But, the anything but a Shakespeare club patronizing idea of a Shakespeare program!

There is in circulation a book, "Fifty Songs From Shakespeare." This is divided into three groups, one for the songs mentioned only by Shakespeare; another for the songs with the notes of the songs; the third is the songs which have recited in the setting since Shakespeare's day. Also, there are extant many beautiful modern arrangements of verses or adaptations from the Shakespeare lines.

Why not always a program of these? In the book already mentioned, there is the preface to each song of the play, the act and scene, also something of the history of the words and music.

In addition to these, two books are extant which give chapters upon the musical taste of Shakespeare's day. The orchestra and the chorus as they are described. Every instrument which he mentions and every term of music is discussed. How can it be possible that a Shakespeare club should fail to bring this forward? It is often seen that music clubs, notable the European club of Fort Worth, give an afternoon to Shakespeare music alone. The club directed by Miss Kate Friend have provision with the study of every play where music is included, for the study of that phase in the immortal Shakespeare's works. It is to be hoped that when the Shakespeare club of Texas desire a musical afternoon with which to entertain their friends, they see that their artists present Shakespearean music.

The more general interest in looking over this directory is to see how nearly this fills the general federation motto, "Unity in Diversity." There is the long list of study clubs, of women, of philanthropy in its every phase, of Republican and Democratic parties, equal suffrage for women, good government, the various state clubs, music, theatre, peace promoters—indeed, one can not place a subject in all woman's endeavor not represented. Is not this a wonderful broadening? For this means that the various sections present their work to the body as a whole? But more, does not this suggest what the women of Texas may? There are now too many organizations of which every woman of Texas city? The value of unity in diversity is not yet realized. Is it not timely that leaders in each city resolved to make the first work of the new year an effort to unite? Why not a mass meeting of women, some advanced speaker to lead the value, then persistent effort to create the sentiment for union? A number of organizations feel that to federate is to lose individuality and the opportunity for the specific work upon which it is concentrated. This removed, the united effort will bring much greater results with much less effort.

THE GATESVILLE SCHOOL IS IN THE LIMELIGHT

Following all the agitation in the winter over the disturbed condition at the Gatesville reformatory, and subsequent newspaper articles concerning the manner in which the so-called school is conducted, Governor Colquitt made a visit of personal inspection. Since, the management has changed. During the agitation the Waco women, feeling that the duty was theirs, as they were nearest, held a mass meeting and appointed a strong committee of women to visit the institution and to make report. It was intended that this report would be published and that the club women of Texas who have a vital interest in this so-called school for wayward boys, should be informed. It was expected that this report would lead to a petition from all the club women of the state, to have conditions changed, and the institution more nearly fill the requirements of a school of correction. But the continued bad weather prevented the committee of women from making the trip. In the meantime, the outlook was for bettered conditions, and the women waited. It seems that this was wise, for the recommendation from the men who have the Gatesville institution under their supervision are recommending just what the women desired. This recommendation is that guards with the instruments of punishment be supplemented by trained teachers; that the cottage plan be inaugurated, in order that boys of like age and tendency may be housed together, and the contaminating influences removed. Also, it is recommended that the boys be systematically taught. Other details are mentioned. The club women will read this with satisfaction. We feel sure these recommendations will be adopted. In this case the reformatory idea will pass into a wholesome, healthy school for wayward boys, improved rather than contaminated in character.

STATE PRESIDENT SENDS HER WEEKLY LETTER

How many of you are going to observe Flag Day, June 14th? The club women of every community should consider it their duty to see that Flag Day is properly celebrated in the towns where they reside.

Suitable exercises should be carried out on this day, the object being to instill in our young people the love for these stars and stripes, the banner unsurpassed—our American flag; and in connection with this love for our flag, teach them that it is the emblem of a nation that is striving for world peace.

To woman the world looks for the teaching of the great lesson peace. Justice Brewer in his address on the mission of the United States in the cause of peace, said: "There never was a time since the beginning of days that woman longed for bloodshed or the carnage of war, and the more fully she realizes its waste and destruction the more earnest will become her opposition. Nowhere in the world is she so potent a force in public life as in this country, and you may be sure that that force will be long concentrated in standing opposition to war and in favor of the settlement of international disputes by arbitration. She cannot be sneered or laughed out of her faith, and he who looks for public recognition in this country will do well to take note of this fact."

This strong statement coming from Justice Brewer means much and, dear friends, I would ask that you use your influence in having Flag Day observed and in connection with it present the subject of Peace.

In the western states of our union a pretty custom prevails; the American flag is always in evidence, especially in the rural districts, floating over the school houses. Why not in dear old Texas?

Soon again the famous Fourth of July will be here, and none can do more towards making this a same celebration than can the club women of the state.

John Adams in a letter to Mrs. Adams, said of the Fourth of July: "This day ought to be commemorated as the day of deliverance, by solemn acts of devotion to God Almighty. It ought to be solemnized with pomp and parade, from one end of this continent to the other."

He did not intend that it should be a celebration with such sacrifice of human life as invariably attend the observance of the day.

By all means, let us have the pomp and parade; the bells and the fireworks; the bonfires and illuminations; but let us devise means by which all may be safeguarded; let us plan the celebration to be held at some central point, a celebration for all the people, rich and poor alike—a celebration conducted as to endanger no previous life.

Will not the good club women all over the state use their influence in bringing about a same and safe Fourth of July?

Parents can do much in making this possible. Do not permit the children to go to the store and purchase toy pistols, firecrackers—especially the cannon cracker, and in fact fireworks of any kind.

If the parent will be strict in this matter, much loss of limb and life can be averted, and the day can indeed be made as was intended, a celebration by American citizens in gratitude to God for the land where all men may enjoy what they call liberty.

AN OKLAHOMA PROGRAM FROM MRS. G. A. BROWN

Through the courtesy of Mrs. G. A. Brown, of Mangum, Oklahoma, we are permitted a glimpse into the program for the fifth district meeting of Oklahoma clubs of which Mrs. Brown is past president. The interest in Texas club women is personal in that Mrs. Brown was an ardent worker among the Panhandle clubs before her removal to Oklahoma. There was a four day session which indicates that the tendency in Oklahoma is the same as in our own state—to multiply the federation endeavor to such an extent that reports can not be compressed into one day session. Among the first thing to be noted is the special page for the presiding officer. Mrs. McDaniel, who is known to so many of the Texas club women, was present. Mrs. Thredgill, who has twice visited our federation, now national Federation treasurer, was also present. This convention opened with the singing of America. This means that the national air, the legislative session of the program came first. This reviewed recent legislation involving the woman and the child. Civics was next. Included was a special paper upon the birds and native flora of Oklahoma. One feature in the district meetings of Oklahoma, not observed in Texas, is a report of the individual by groups according to study. For instance, all the Shakespeare club report in succession. This is a good idea as it concentrates the subject, rather than matter through every phase of club study. Public health was one topic. Under this head eugenics was discussed. Prison libraries were introduced in connection with the boys' training school. All of these were grouped under one broad heading, Sociology. There was a musicale for one evening during which the history of Mangum was read. This is in line with the Texas idea of preserving local history. Much was freely introduced all through the daily program. Other topics are about the same as with the Texas line of endeavor, home economics in the schools, domestic science, scholarship with loan funds, the general federation endorsement fund, and club extension. It is always interesting to compare what we do with these who are pursuing the same aim.

HERE IS SOMETHING FOR CLUB WOMEN TO FOLLOW

Although prepared for a good citizenship code of conduct, these are worthy the club women's attention:

Thou shalt honor thy city and keep its laws.

Remember thy cleaning day and keep it weekly.

Thou shalt love and cherish thy children and provide for them decent homes and playgrounds.

Thou shalt not keep thy windows closed day or night.

Thou shalt keep in order thy alley, thy hall and stairway.

Thou shalt not kill thy children's bodies with poisonous air, nor their souls with bad companions.

Thou shalt not let the wicked fly live.

Thou shalt not steal thy children's right to happiness from them.

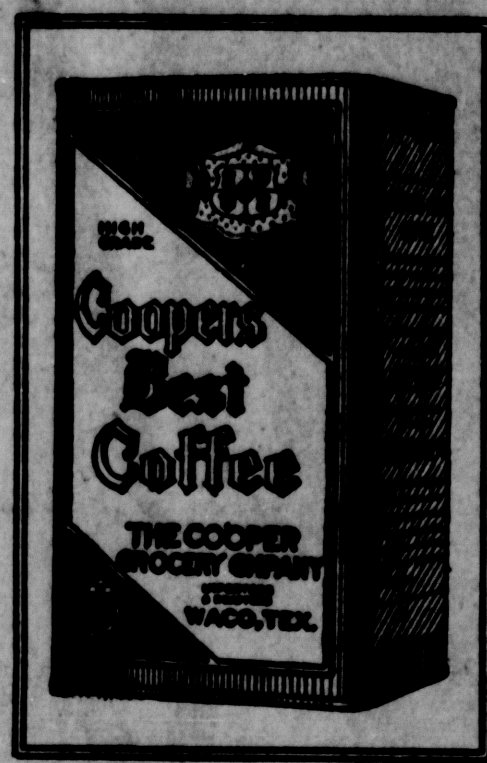

Thou shalt bear witness against thy neighbor's rubbish heap.

Thou shalt covet all the air and sunlight these can obtain.

COOPER'S BEST COFFEE

We Have So Much Confidence in Our

Cooper's Best Coffee

Because we know the extreme thought and care that go into the making of every pound. The watchful selection of berries, the thorough cleaning and re-cleaning, the perfect blend and the exact roasting, combine to give you such deliciousness as we believe that you will not obtain elsewhere.

And you, lovers of good coffee, know that coffee roasted in Chicago, Boston, San Francisco, St. Louis or New York cannot be as fresh as coffee roasted here in Waco, and that stale coffee hasn't the strength or flavor of fresh roasted coffee.

Why buy any Coffee but Cooper's Best? It has the freshness, the strength, and the flavor that cannot be had in any other coffee.

Since we are this June celebrating the fifth year of the emancipation of the negro, the Daughters of the Confederacy should be interested in the many books which are appearing to tell the story of the negro in America, his history, achievements and such.

With Miss Eleanor Brackridge at the head, there is a movement being furthered all over Texas to petition the state convention of marshals and police to take action favorable to the appointment of a woman police in every Texas city, and more than one in the larger cities.

The women who study Shakespeare will be interested in hearing something new from the Purgean publications. These men who are editing the most helpful studies in all Shakespearean, the Variorum edition. This edition purports to have on each play all possible for the study, even to every criticism translated from the seven languages. The grandfatherly brown edition. The father died two years ago at the age of eight-two, and now the son is carrying on the work. So far, circulation, which means another person, has been twenty plays are in circulation, which means that the generation or perhaps two, will carry on the work. Julius Caesar is the latest. It is just from the press.

One of the recent events for competition among the club women is the recollection of Miss Lathrop in the national club women's history by Miss Lathrop. There was a strong pressure for a New Orleans woman to succeed Miss Lathrop, but the district was not made by the new administration.

There is a strong movement among the club of Texas to have a national club. Mrs. Charles Amos is the president.

the poor suffering beast during the hot season? Is there a convenient place in your town where the animals may drink?

Now that the club women are to go to Corpus Christi for their next meeting it is hoped that there is to be the privilege of seeing the best collection of rail art in all Texas. This has been the private possession of Dr. and Mrs. Spehn, the latter's father having been a much travelled Spanish emporario, and a man of sufficient wealth to purchase valuable marine paintings, and other rare treasures. Indisputably, it has been the privilege of visitors to Corpus Christi to see these pieces. Dr. Spehn is recently deceased, and it is to be desired greatly that this collection pass into a public gallery.

Those who know any it is well worth while for the club women to investigate the feeding of the prisoners in her home town. Development is startling in many cases. In many places, women again for feeding the prisoners are organized. In this way, better prepared food of high grade is available.

There is no one talking longer, or

Now that vacation days are here, turn the girls loose for a good (last) a decent time, to be sure, but a complete relaxation from study and school room confinement. They will be all the better for it when another school year begins.

Are the women sufficiently interested in forming the Junior club? It is indeed a part of the club women's profession to train the girls to the value and the purpose of one life, so that a second generation may take forward what the present generation has founded.

Mrs. Edward Bates is having within the next few days for her in her summer cottage at San Bush, Texas, Mississippi.

Do many of the club women pay attention during the summer to their neglected club duty? We say not. Now is the summer time. Keep a note book, please at hand. You never can tell when a summer vacation will be over, and the club duty begins.

The Daughters of the Confederacy are making plans to have their annual picnic in the state capital. A complete story is being given to see the Confederates.

Dear Sir:—I am returning your case and bottles today. Please mail me check for refund on same, as I will discontinue the use of your mineral water for a while.

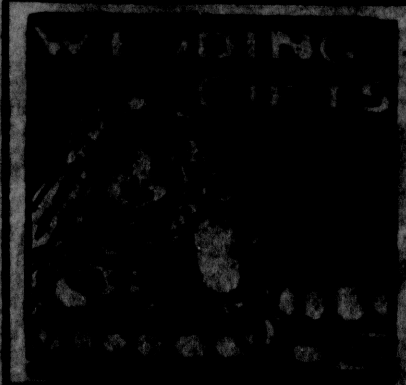

The water did my wife more good than all the medicine I could buy. She was taking medicine every day for two years and in bed half the time. She is now able to do her house work and is feeling better every day, which is due to your water.

Yours respectfully,

The Doctor's Advice

By Dr. Lewis Baker

The questions answered below are general in character, the symptoms or diseases are given and the answers will apply to any case of similar nature. Those wishing further advice free, may address Dr. Lewis Baker, College Side, College-Hillwood street, Dayton, Ohio, enclosing self-addressed stamped envelope for reply. Full name and address must be given, but only initials or fictitious name will be used in my answers. The prescriptions can be filled at any well stocked drug store. Any druggist can order of wholesale.

"Clara" writes: "I have had a cough for about a year and fear I shall never be rid of it, as it gets worse with every fresh cold I contract. Could you give me a remedy?"

Answer: I can give you a remedy that I am sure will cure you and one that is absolutely harmless and pleasant to take. Make a syrup with one pint of boiling water, put on the fire and let it come to a boil, then add the contents of a 3 1/2 oz. bottle of essence mentha-lazara, which you can purchase at any drug store, and you will have a pint of the finest cough syrup on the market today. It is about eight times cheaper than ordinary inhaled cough medicines and will last much longer.

"Mary" says: "I would like something for indigestion. I cannot eat and am cross and irritable all the time. I fear it will cause appendicitis."

Answer: Ask your druggist for tablets (Gripoxine) and take according to the directions. These are pink, white and blue tablets and are to be taken morning, noon and night respectively. This will cure your indigestion and prevent appendicitis.

"Nervous Dorothy" writes: "I have no appetite whatever. I cannot sleep at night and my nerves are in a terrible condition. Can you tell what would help me?"

Answer: The following has helped thousands who suffer as you do. Get 1 oz. of syrup of hypophosphites (not cod liver oil) and take a teaspoonful before meals. This tonic will restore your nervous system and you will be sleeping and eating within a very short time.

When J. asks: "I am only 20 years old and weigh 100 pounds. I am short, fat and uncomfortable. I desire to go in company as I feel embarrassed. Can you advise a safe reducing remedy?"

Answer: Anyone who is too fleshy can safely take 3-grain grippoxine tablets. They are sold by well-stocked druggists in sealed tubes with full directions for use. A pound a day, if used regularly, can be taken off.

"R. E. Wilson" writes: "I have been advised to take what will cure chronic constipation. I have suffered for years and have used many kinds of pills, but they do not cure."

Answer: I think most of the trouble is caused by chronic constipation. If the following tablets are taken regularly they will gradually effect a cure, as they stimulate the liver and induce new healthy action. They are packed in sealed tubes and are called three grain grippoxine tablets (not grippoxine tablets) with full directions for taking. They will also purify the blood and tone up the entire system. If you are dyspeptic, take tablets tripartite. These two medicines will find relief in only two days drug store.

SOUTH HAS SWAY IN FEDERAL AFFAIRS

INFLUENCE IN GOVERNMENT MORE PRONOUNCED THAN SINCE CIVIL WAR.

SHARES IN THE BIG OFFICES

Wilson Appointments and New Committee Reflect Much Activity.

(New York Sun.)

It is only two or three years since Mr. Taft as president went through the South urging Southerners to hasten the day when they again would take an active and important part in the conduct of the federal government. Mr. Taft was sincere in his desire to see the South attain the influential place it occupied at the national capital before the Civil war, but he probably did not anticipate the fulfillment of his wishes in just the way it has been brought about.

The South and Southern influence are more strongly represented in the government at Washington than at any other time since the Civil war. Political observers are beginning to realize this more and more as the lists of appointments to the federal service come from the white house and the new committee assignments in congress are studied.

In the first place the presidency itself is in the hands of a man Southern born for the first time in nearly half a century. Woodrow Wilson was born in Virginia, was graduated from the University of Virginia, founded by Thomas Jefferson, and has retained strong Southern sentiments from his early training and surroundings.

Wilson's Liberal South. In choosing his cabinet Mr. Wilson has been very liberal to the South. More Southerners are in charge of the big executive departments of the government than since back in the '60s. Grover Cleveland gave only two of his cabinet posts to the South in his first administration. He selected Lucius Quintus Cincinnatus Lamar of Mississippi for his secretary of the interior and Augustus H. Garland of Arkansas for his attorney general.

When Cleveland was elected in 1893 he gave only three of the eight cabinet places to the South—selecting John G. Carlisle of Kentucky for secretary of the treasury, Hilary A. Herbert of Alabama for secretary of the navy, and John Smith of Georgia for secretary of the interior.

Three of the ten men in President Wilson's cabinet are credited directly to Southern states, two others were born and have lived most of their lives in the South, and one is from a border state.

Joseph Daniels, secretary of the navy, comes from North Carolina; James C. McInerney, the attorney general, is from Tennessee, and Albert B. Cummins, the postmaster general, is a Texan.

McAdoo a Southerner. The secretary of the treasury, William G. McAdoo, is credited to New York state, but it requires only a slight stretch of memory to recall the time when he entered New York city from Georgia with nothing to build on save one big idea and plenty of pluck.

David P. Houston, secretary of agriculture, not only comes from Missouri, a border state, but is a Southerner by birth and training. He was born in North Carolina, was graduated from the South Carolina college and was president of the University of Texas before he became chancellor of Washington university in St. Louis.

An extraordinary list of impressive list of Southern cabinet officers, Mr. Taft's official family contained at the time of his administration not a single man who was credited to a Southern state. The nearest approach to it was Charles Marshall of St. Louis, who was secretary of commerce and labor. He was a native of Texas. At the beginning of his administration President Taft gave the war portfolio to Jacob Reed Dickinson, a Tennessee Democrat, but Dickinson resigned before the four years were up.

Also Got Minor Places. The recent growth of Southern influence in high places also is plainly reflected in the character of minor appointments. Southerners have been coming in for a large share of these, although Northern Democrats have no ground for grumbling on this score.

Sectionalism has played no part with the president in making his selections, high or low. He has tried to have his appointments solely on merit and has ignored the nominations impartially to North and South. However, the fact that there have been so few Southerners in important offices under his administration is a reflection on the fact that Mr. Wilson has made from this part of the country.

In the treasury department, Secretary McAdoo has drawn on the South for assistance which in years gone by would have been rare. He has secured in the person of Mr. McAdoo, a Southerner, a man who handles the finances of the government.

The big wave and means committee which already has been chosen for the present congress and which not only handles the tariff bill, but all other committee matters, is about evenly divided in membership of the majority party between Northern and Southern states. The committee on rules has five Democrats from Southern states to two from the North. Not only will the tariff be revised under the leadership of Southern Democrats, but the same forces will handle the revision of the currency laws.

It should be said, however, that there is not a general feeling of sectional feeling among the Democrats over the makeup of the committee. The facts mentioned here are merely intended to show how generally and with what strength the South is asserting herself in the conduct of the affairs in Washington, under the new administration.

40 Children Unclaimed. New York, May 31.—Forty-six children between the ages of three and six who became lost in the holiday throng yesterday, were still unclaimed by their parents at the children's society headquarters today. In all eighty-five tots were reported missing, but by patient work the police bureau nearly had to their homes by midnight.

There's a little side street at the edge of the town.
That slopes from the brow of the hill,
Where the shadows lie deep from the sun going down
And the harsh city noises are still.
The white wings of peace seem to brood in the air
Of this little side street that I know
And Phyllis so fair is awaiting me there,

TO PROTECT GIRLS

TRAVELERS' AID SOCIETY HAS PURPOSES AND PLANS FOR GOOD WORK.

Full Scope of Its Actions Explained to the Federation of Missionary Societies.

At the meeting Friday of the Federation of Missionary societies the following outline of the purposes of the Travelers' Aid society was presented:

"The Travelers' Aid society is a non-sectarian protective organization to safeguard travelers, especially women and girls who by reason of inexperience, ignorance, illness, infirmity or other disability are in need of assistance."

"It provides information, advice and protection to all travelers, irrespective of age, race, creed, class or sex. It thereby relieves suffering and prevents error, wrong extortion and crime at a time when the desired victim is most accessible to it."

"The organization investigates special inducements sent out through advertising mediums whereby many are lured into the wrong."

"The Travelers' Aid meets the trains, assists or conducts inexperienced or confused travelers to their friends or to the proper hotel or boarding house; when necessary, provides temporarily for unfortunate ones. Travelers Aid society co-operates with all other organizations that look to the safety and comfort of those who are traveling. She is known by her official badge and uniform and best of all by her kindly ministrations."

"Special conditions and the activity of avarice and crime are such that in the great rush of travel many persons are taken advantage of by these agents of commercial vice in its various forms."

"Agents of disorderly houses travel on trains and boats ever alert to secure their victims. Every year thousands of women, mostly young women, go into our large towns and cities seeking a chance of honorable livelihood. These are rich in hope and ambition but lacking in experience and resources. They are, as you know, easy victims to wicked, unscrupulous persons who take advantage of the opportune hour for them."

"In most cases by voluntary contributions and subscriptions from philanthropic persons and organizations who recognize the need of helping the individual before there is need of rescue."

"The very fact that it is no longer an experiment but one of the best if not the best organized agency existing to meet a great need when help is most needed is proof that it pays."

"Do you know that statistics tell us that in the United States alone 50,000 women and girls are lost annually, simply drop out of existence. Lost to self, to family, to the church, to society, yes lost, eternally lost. Do not condemn but rather pity the girl whose very innocence is her ruin often times."

"She had not been informed, neither was the mother. Little did they know about legalized traffic in girls, carried on by mercenary, unscrupulous men and women who study their business to succeed, who mean to win at any cost. They do not sit down and wait for opportunity for victims; they hunt them with cunning and deliberate devices. They are on hand when your friends fail to meet you, offering to help you find them. They are there when you fail to make connection and ready to make the waiting hours pleasant for you. If you have lost your ticket and money has run short, they want no better opportunity to offer you assistance. "Do you wonder that one unaware of any harm would listen. She is hungry for friendly advice and will listen to anyone who seems inclined to be friendly, and especially to the one who seems the most anxious to help her. And there is another side. The aged and infirm old lady who often find traveling alone. Their courage and self-confidence is not as buoyant and strong as in other years. The privilege to help them—is it worth while? If it were your old father or mother, I am sure you would say yes."

"Sick people, mothers with small children or a sick child has been convinced by the assistance of a Christ-like little woman that there is something in Christianity after all. In fact Christianity is seen and felt most in just being kind to God's other children, even though they be wayward, sinful children, and every effort we put forth to make life safer and sweeter will add His blessing to that of the one helped and to you who makes possible this agency of help for them."

KING ALFONSO IS HUMANE.

Trice to Save Little Girl Who Was Struck by His Train.

Madrid, May 31.—According to Gen- eral Zena, chief of King Alfonso's military household, the young king ex- cently figured in a tragic incident near Utrera, while traveling in the Regia.

One of two little girls, who had been playing on the railway line, was struck by the train and badly injured.

King Alfonso looked from the win- dow upon seeing the girl jumped from the window of the still moving train and was first to give aid to the injured.

When others alighted from the train, they found the king with the little girl in his arms, endeavoring to stop the flow of blood, but she died in a few minutes.

The king was profoundly impressed, and endeavored to console the mother of the child, who was the woman in charge of the railway crossing, and he gave her a sum of money.

$151,957 IN ANTI-TRUST FINES

Amount is More Than Three-Fourths of the Appropriation for Prosecution.

Washington, May 31.—Fines imposed by the federal courts against "trusts" during the current fiscal year for al- leged violations of the Sherman law, aggregating to date $151,957, or more than three-fourths of the $200,000 originally appropriated by congress for the year's prosecutions of corporations in restraint of trade. Most of this amount has been paid and the remain- der is the subject of appeals in the courts.

The largest fines of the year in any one case were those imposed a few days ago in the so-called "cotton- brake trust" cases, aggregating $21,000.

Fines assessed in other cases: Bath tub trust, $51,007; Portland, Oregon, Produce Merchants exchange, $5,450; National Cash Register com- pany, $4,000; James A. Fulton "cotton pool," $4,000 and the Hunter Milling company of Wellington, Kansas, and the Blackwell Mill and Elevator com- pany of Blackwell, Oklahoma, $3,000.

Some of the fines were levied during the administration of former Attorney General Wickham and some under the present administration, but all the cases are in direct charge of James A. Feltner, assistant to the attorney general, who has broken the records of all other "trust busters" of the gov- ernment for the number of anti-trust cases lodged in the courts.

The $200,000 originally provided for the enforcement of the Sherman law was recently increased by a $65,000 deficiency appropriation.

Chicago, May 31.—The cotton market today had greater magnitude than any time since the beginning of adverse weather and crop reports from the southwest. Notwithstanding setbacks, due to heavy profits taking, the market closed steady at an advance of 1/16 to 1/8 to 1/16. Corn advanced 1/16 to 1/8, and oats with a gain of 1/16 to 1/8. Provisions varied from a down to an increase of 1/16 to 1/8.

On all hard spots the situation invariably grew to such volume as to turn the course of trade, but then quickly subsided.

A notable feature of business was improvement in cash demand, especially on the part of cotton buyers.

WE advise U—
1—TO BUY WACO PROPERTY.
2—To investigate closely both property and agent offering to sell same. It will cost you nothing to remember and act on this advice. It may cost you heavily to forget it.

Say, Mr. Investor, or Home Seeker, if a proposition is put up to you, and you forget or neglect it, and some other person buys and makes a nice profit, haven't you practically lost that profit? If you buy and find out later that there is some serious drawback to the property, aren't you the loser? Think these things over before you buy.

We solicit your business on a merit basis, and would rather not deal with you than to sell you an "elephant." We give strict attention to anything that will in any way detract from the value of the property offered for sale, and give our clients the full benefit of our knowledge.

"We may both lose if you don't trade with us."

DALLAS AHEAD IN THE BATTING

Permit Money Would Stretch Four Miles if in a Straight Line

If the dollars that represent the building improvements to Waco during the month of May were strung out in a straight line, side touching side, a string of more than four miles would be formed. The whole lot of silver dollars, would be enough to give the city hall a coat of silver of sufficient thickness to cause a decided sheen. The whole amount represented in permits issued is $174,500, the gain over April is a decided one, when the permits totaled but $101,595.

Building and repairing has been unusually active during the month just passed. Several permits have been issued for buildings costing $35,000; a number for $20,000 buildings, and scores of permits for structures ranging from $600 to $4,000.

County Directorate Returns From Visit To See Road Engine

Members of the county commissioners' court have returned from Dallas, where they went Friday at with a demonstration of a gasoline tractor made by Austin Bros. The demonstration was given by the machinery house in an effort to show the practicability of the tractor in road grading. County Judge George N. Denton and Commissioners C. N. Smith, F. L. Willenborg, R. F. Mosely and J. N. Bord, and Dr. Hall, made the trip.

Last night Judge Denton said the demonstration was satisfactory. Several of the engines were in operation in various parts of Dallas and Judge Denton said they seemed to be practical for grading work. The matter possibly will be taken up officially at the June meeting of the commission. The tractor engine costs $1250, and two graders cost $600 addition. The company selling the machines claim for them that they affect a saving of 50 per cent in grading work.

Musical Program At Baylor Varsity Draws Big Crowds

An enormous crowd enjoyed the joint concert by the Baylor band and Glee Club in Carroll Chapel last night. The program was a feature of commencement week that started yesterday afternoon and every performer was forced to respond to an encore. The program was a well-balanced one and every number pleased. The band selections were among the best that organization has presented, while the numbers by the Glee Club were such as to afford the members an opportunity to demonstrate their finished work. The piano numbers by Miss Farrington, the vocal solos by Miss Eldora Stanford and C. P. Mosley and the selections by the University quartette were all thoroughly appreciated. Many of the town people joined the members of the student body, the faculty and Baylor community, attending the exercises. The program was as follows:
